

AKIN BILL GIVEN ITS DEATH BLOW

Secretary Harrison Sustains Protest and the Bill is Thrown Out.

The following self-explanatory telegram was received this afternoon by J. W. Hays:

"Secretary Harrison has sustained protest and held Akin bill bad."

"ORVILLE T. SMITH, Atty. Gen."

Naturally the successful termination of this fight is causing much rejoicing at Ada, and other places similarly placed. Mr. Akin probably did not realize the vigor of the opposition he would meet in the matter and took chances that may yet cause him no little trouble. Although the wire does not say anything about an appeal, the fact that whoever backed Akin financially during the first part of the fight deserted him at the critical point of the final hearing, makes it improbable that he will be able to raise the money necessary to perfect an appeal to the supreme court, and even if he should, the chain of evidence linked together by the attorneys of the schools cannot be broken by any evidence Akin has yet offered.

Tax League Will Begin Agitation.

Oklahoma City, Ok., June 5.—The Citizens' State-Wide Protective League launched a campaign here today for a 1 per cent tax law modeled after that of Ohio.

A meeting of taxpayers from all parts of the state was called and will be held in Oklahoma City, June 19 for the purpose of perfecting a state-wide organization to urge this proposed law for the consideration of the next legislature.

The officials of the taxpayers' league have made an exhaustive study of the Ohio law and have concluded it is what is needed in Oklahoma.

Simultaneously the league will undertake to pledge county and city officials throughout the state to work for greater economy in the administration of county and municipal governments.

Davis' Second Trial Begins.

Muskogee, Ok., June 5.—The second trial of Jack Davis, charged with the murder of Jesse Maxwell here on April 15 last, was begun here today. Counsel for the defendant succeeded in quashing a venire of 150, the ground being that one township had been omitted in the drawing. The court then ordered an open venire of 150. The defense sought to disqualify the sheriff and two of his deputies, but failed. The disqualified jurors were held in the court room and most of them summoned on the open venire. Arguments over motion to postpone the trial and clashes between opposing counsel consumed the day.

Winfield Scott's Will Broken.

Fort Worth, Tex., June 5.—The will made by the late Winfield Scott, largely in favor of his 10-year-old son is annulled, if the verdict of the jury in the Forty-Eighth District Court, returned this evening, stands. The suit was styled Mrs. George Scott Townsend vs. Mrs. Elizabeth Scott et al., to annul the will of the late Winfield Scott, the father of the plaintiff and the husband of the defendant in the suit. There was also joined in the suit the half brother of the plaintiff, Winfield Scott Jr.

The verdict of the jury was, "We the jury, find for the plaintiff."

Under the terms of the will, Mrs. Townsend, who is the daughter of the deceased millionaire by his first wife, Georgia Scott, received nothing from the estate but a life income from the Scott hotel, Second and Main streets. This amounts approximately to $150 a month. At her death, according to the terms of the will, the property was to go to her 13-year-old son, Winfield Scott Townsend. It is valued at $80,000.

The remainder of the $4,000,000 estate was bequeathed to Mrs. Elizabeth Scott, the second wife of the capitalist, and her son, Winfield Scott Jr., 10 years of age.

As the beneficiary of his father's will, the boy would eventually come into possession of property worth $2,500,000. The greater part of this is real estate along Main street, from Weatherford to the Union Station. It was acquired in the early days of Ft. Worth by the elder Scott.

Included in the property owned by the elder Scott at the time of his death were the Scott, Worth, Metropolitan and Terminal hotel buildings, the Washer Building, Eighth and Main, the Scott-Harold building, Fifth and Main; the Elizabeth building and others.

The Molokai Lepers.

The colony of Lepers on the island of Molokai off the Hawaiian group is again called to the attention of the outside world by the sad report that Brother Ira Dutton has been stricken with leprosy. Ira Barnes Dutton was born at Stowe, Vt., in 1843, and is therefore, in his sixty-ninth year. He went west before the Civil war, and when that broke out he enlisted in the zouave cadets of Zanesville, Wis. Before the war ended he became a captain, and was known as Captain Dutton until he became a member of the Dominican order. Brother Dutton is the last of the pioneer nurses who volunteered to care for the lepers at Molokai, where they were segregated by Father Damien. He has done his duty well, and now that he has been stricken with the dread disease, it can easily be believed that the report is true that he is facing death with the same bravery that was shown by his predecessor, the more widely known Father Damien. To be brave in battle, as Captain Dutton proved himself to be, is one thing; to face death from exposure to an insidious and lingering disease, and that, too, for the good of one's fellow men, is quite another thing. Brother Dutton has shown himself capable of both.—Manchester Union.

WOULD REMOVE MORE RESTRICTIONS

Washington, D. C., June 6.—Senator Gore on Wednesday last secured a favorable report from the Committee on Indian Affairs on his proposed amendment to the Indian Appropriation bill to appropriate three hundred thousand dollars for the benefit of the common schools in the eastern half of Oklahoma. This amendment was offered in consequence of the recent decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in which it was decided that the Act of Congress under taking to subject certain unrestricted Indian allotments to taxation was unconstitutional and void.

The Act of Congress just mentioned undertook to subject to taxation eight million acres of lands in the old Indian Territory portion of the state. By the recent decision a major portion of the land is now withdrawn from taxation, which occasions a great burden not only on the state government, but in the county and township governments and the local school districts. In a number of counties 70 and 80 per cent of the land is exempt from taxation. To meet this situation and to relieve the burdens of the people, Senator Gore immediately after the decision of the Supreme court introduced an amendment to the Indian Appropriation bill granting three hundred thousand dollars to that portion of the state affected by the decision. The Indian Committee, at an extra session held for the consideration of this amendment consented to a favorable report. The contest will now be made on the floor of the Senate and every effort will be made to secure the retention of this amendment in the senate.

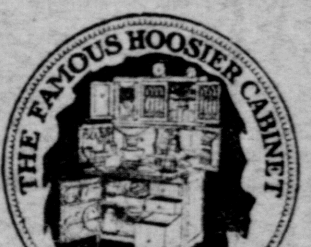

It is the purpose of Senator Gore and other members of the Oklahoma delegation to follow this effort to secure relief by an effort to secure a further removal of restrictions. The bill and amendment which will be offered for this purpose will authorize and direct the secretary of the interior, with the consent of the allottee, to see the surplus allotments of the Chickasaw and Choctaw Indians of three-quarter blood or more. This will soon subject a large portion of land to taxation.

Knocking Out the Liquor Business.

Tom Sharkey, ex-bruiser, runs a cafe booze joint in New York. Tom was standing out in front of his place of business recently when two young men dressed for a marathon passed by on the run. Turning to a friend Tom said:

"That's the thing that's knocking out the liquor business. Everybody's getting the athletic bug. Everybody wants to be an athlete and a fellow can't be an athlete and drink at the same time. Lots of cafes are going out of business. Many persons who formerly drank whisky now make it beer. I notice in the papers that people are drinking beer because it is cheaper. That's not all. Schoolboy athletics are bringing about the change. The boy is taught not to drink and he doesn't do it when he grows up. But don't mistake me. The idea is dead right and I am for it."

Tom has it doped out all right. A man can't drink booze and be a champion at anything. He cannot even make a respectable start. If a man wants to drink booze, he had better so arrange things that nothing else will interfere; for whatever else he works at will not amount to a whoop anyway.—Enid Eagle.

Arkansas Travelers at Hot Springs.

Hot Springs, Ark., June 6.—The Arkansas Travelers, as the Knights of the Grip of this state are commonly called, are gathered in this city in great number to attend the annual convention of the state organization which opened here today for a session extending over three days. The business men and citizens in general of Hot Springs have given the Travelers a royal welcome and have made elaborate arrangements for their entertainment. The opening day features include a big parade, the welcoming exercises late in the afternoon and a grand ball in the evening. Tomorrow's great feature will be a spectacular Mardi Gras parade in the morning, athletic games in the afternoon and special vaudeville performance in the evening. Saturday will be devoted to a business meeting and the election of officers and sight-seeing in the afternoon.

Indiana Democratic Editors.

Ft. Wayne, Ind., June 6.—The men who work the year round to keep the democratic party in the Hoosier state in good fighting trim gathered here in force today at the opening of the annual meeting of the Indiana Democratic Editorial Association. The National campaign and the important part that Indiana expects to play in the Baltimore convention have resulted in an unusually large attendance at the meeting. The editors will remain in the city three days. The big feature of the program will be a banquet and public meeting tomorrow night at which Governor Marshall and other prominent party leaders will speak.

Matrimonial Advice.

The old and much married man gazed on the earnest youth. "My son," he said, "hark to my words for each one is the truth; I've learned all that a man can learn of lovely woman's ways. And my opinion, privately, is marriage seldom pays."

"You wed a young girl, and behold, she practices on you With steak cooked like a rubber mat and battercakes like glue. She can't wear last year's clothes at all, and so much coin expects Your wrist is numb from writer's cramp, caused by your signing checks."

"You wed an older woman, and the house is full of cats; She wants you to wear stiff white vests and black silk string cravats. And if you ask why this should be, in accents of despair, She says it is correct, and what the preacher used to wear. "But if you pick a widow out, she drags you to the show; She's full of things dragged from the past you're not supposed to know; She's had her girlhood squandered, and you have to come across And make her life a lively one to catch up with the loss. "So, take it all together, son, experience has shown It's better—I should say it is!—to let 'em all alone."

The City election is only five days away and the candidates are putting in some hard licks to round up their full voting strength.

Justices Kane and Hayes have been married since taking their places on the Supreme bench, and now if Judge Bob Williams does not follow their example they should put him out of the court.

A bill has been introduced by Congressman Anderson of Ohio, to set aside a tract of public land for the use of the Owls in establishing a sanitarium. Naturally one is inclined to inquire if hollow trees will be the principal feature of the grounds.

When credit is extended to a man it is as a favor, but it is too often the case that the one favored looks upon it as only a chance to beat the creditor out of that much and make no effort to square up. Instead of appreciating it, he takes occasion to sting his benefactor.

While they are twitting Champ Clark about filing as a candidate for congress, it might be well to remember that for a little while James A. Garfield was congressman, senator-elect and president-elect all at once. And he might have been alive now if he had chosen the senate job.—McAlester News-Capital.

The so-called Citizens' Protective League of Oklahoma will agitate the passage of an iron-clad law cutting down the maximum tax rate. From recent exposures one is inclined to believe that if the tax dodgers at the head of this organization would pay their share instead of taking a pauper's oath when the tax assessor comes around, there would be less occasion for a high rate of taxation.

In giving credit to whom credit is due, the towns affected by the defunct Akin bill should not forget the work of Hon. Bill Durant. The normal at his town would have profited greatly if that measure had been adopted, but the gentleman was not to be swayed by any such consideration. His speeches at Ada and other places in opposition to the bill were effective in the extreme and had it become necessary to carry the campaign further, he would have been found working unselfishly against it.

AKIN AND HIS BILL.

All friends of education will rejoice in the summary defeat of the Akin bill at the hearing before the secretary of state. Akin comes out of the fray with little glory and under a cloud as the result of the evidence submitted. The case looks very much like he was only a tool of some interest not yet definitely located, and when he was deserted in his hour of need he probably learned how little value there is in promises made by such people as originally backed him and instigated the attack on the fourteen schools. The youth of the state would have been the real sufferers had this iniquitous measure been adopted, and the real benefit of the victory will be the cheap notoriety achieved while the measure was pending.

TO ICE USERS

Commencing today we are making change in price of ice delivered to business houses, hotels, restaurants, cafes, etc. The reason for this change is as follows: In cutting ice for small deliveries there is a great amount of waste, amounting to about 20 per cent. Heretofore we have been making small deliveries at wholesale prices, thus giving our customers who use only a small amount the same price as those who use from 50 to 1000 lbs. daily. To overcome this difference and to save ourselves this loss we are going to put prices on a graduated scale. Those who do not take as much as 50 lbs. at a time are not entitled to the 40 cent rate but will pay the same as in resident districts which is 60 cents per hundred. The price will remain the same for those taking 50 lbs or more at a time.

After giving this matter careful consideration we know you will agree with us that the graduated scale is the only way that will guarantee satisfaction and just treatment to all.

NOSE STOPPED UP WITH CATARRH

Ely's Cream Balm Clears the Head and Nose Instantly—Make You Feel Fine.

No matter how miserable you are with catarrh—nose stopped up, throat sore, dull pain in the head, dry cough, foul breath—Ely's Cream Balm will give you instant relief.

It gets right at the root of the trouble, cleanses, heals and strengthens the raw, sore membranes, and stops the nasty discharge so that you are not constantly blowing your nose and spitting. In a few minutes after applied, you can just feel it doing its work of clearing the head, the pain and soreness are relieved, the breathing becomes natural and the stuffed up feeling is gone. This cleansing, healing antiseptic balm contains no mercury, cocaine or other harmful drug. It is easy to apply, pleasant to use, and never fails to give quick relief, even in the worst cases.

Don't suffer the miseries of catarrh nor disgust your friends with your hawking, spitting and foul breath. Get a fifty-cent bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist and start treatment at once. You will find it will prove to be the best investment you ever made. Special Agents, Gwin & Mays Drug Co.

STUDENTS 10 --- FACULTY 7

for all kinds of coal. Our bins are full and we are equipped to execute your orders exactly as given and with little delay. The following prices will interest you:

Dewer Nut, $4.56; Lump, $5.50; Highest Grade McAlester Lump, $6.50; all in ton lots.

Remember if you get 1500 lbs. of lump coal and 500 lbs. of slack for a ton you have really only 1500 lbs. of coal as the slack is worthless to you. We would not let you have slack if you wanted it as we need it for our boilers, so be sure and get our prices before you buy.

SHE BLAMES "SPIRIT WIFE"

Mrs. William Phelps Dodge Divorced Husband Because Uncanny Influence Ruled Him.

The uncanny influence of a "spirit wife" is said to have been responsible for the divorce action which Mrs. William Phelps Dodge has just won against her millionaire husband.

The decree, which was signed in Philadelphia, would have been granted several weeks ago, it is understood, but the judge wanted to make a longer investigation of the unusual charges brought by the girl wife of the widely known author and lawyer.

According to the papers in the case, Mr. Dodge, who is forty-eight years old, met his young bride here at Sherry's on election night, 1909, and after an impetuous wooing, married her in London on January 10, 1910.

Prior to that time she and her sister had been in the chorus of "Havana," a musical comedy playing at the Casino.

Despite the difference in their ages—the bride was only eighteen—the couple lived happily for a couple of months after the wedding. Then Mrs. Dodge charges that the spirit of Mr. Dodge's first wife, Ethel, appeared before him and began to "pick on" her successor.

Young Mrs. Dodge said that whenever she wore a jewel, a veil or anything that the first Mrs. Dodge had possessed, the latter's spirit would appear before her husband and demand that he have it removed at once.

And, according to the girl-wife, the spirit-wife was always obeyed.

This treatment got on the nerves of the youthful Mrs. Dodge finally, and she packed up and returned to this country, leaving Mr. Dodge in London. Immediately on her arrival here, she applied for the divorce through her mother, as guardian, and charged that cruel, barbarous and inhuman treatment had been inflicted upon her by her husband.—New York Evening Mail.

Rather Unreliable.

"You say that you refuse to believe the sworn testimony of this man?" asked the examining barrister.

"That is so," replied the witness.

"What reasons have you?"

"Why, I know the man! He hates to tell the truth—it's absolutely foreign to his nature. He and I were at the same school, and he used to cry bitterly when the teacher made him repeat that two and two made four."

"Have you any further reminiscences, sir?" This rather sarcastically from the man of law.

"Oh, dear me, yes! Once he was ill and described his symptoms so that the doctor prescribed for water on the knee, when he was really suffering from inflamed tonsils!"

Draining Desert Lands.

One of the curiosities of irrigation is that it is sometimes necessary to drain such lands. When the lands are situated on a comparatively level, the water from the irrigation ditch above seeps along the line between the rock formation and in many cases accumulates in such an amount that it actually becomes swampy. Then it has to be drained, just as in the case of the south. It seems strange to witness the laying of a drainage system in an arid country, but it has been done a great many times. The average user of irrigation who fails may trace his lack of success to the too liberal use of water. Instead of watering he really drowns his crops.

All That Was Left.

A large boarding house caught fire during dinner and much confusion resulted. After the worst was over the landlady, who was a philosophical soul, remarked that it was a blessing that the fire had not happened at night, as some life might have been lost.

A little later the colored boy, who heard this, mysteriously called her aside and cautiously exhibited a great bunch of dark, tangled hair. "Don't say nothin', Miss Nora," he whispered. "Dis hair is worse dan it 'pears. One o' dem ladies in de room ovah de lobby done get burnt up. I ben up dar to see, an' I found her hair."—Ladies' Home Journal.

Best Way to Rest.

Sometimes the best way to work is to take a few hours of relaxation before plunging into troublesome duties. It is impossible to rest unless there are quiet and calm in the mind and peace in one's heart and soul.

A trouble worried brain disturbs the entire physical forces, making one incapable of work or one's best efforts.

There is a great difference between the naturally lazy person and one who knows the need of rest. One cannot find pleasure in rest unless one works, for otherwise there is no contrast. It's like eating when one isn't hungry. No hurried, hurried, fussy woman can ever be beautiful.

Her Reason.

"Mrs. Bloodgood is sending out cards of invitation for a little dance." "Wants to entertain a few friends, does she?" "Yes, and to snub a few more."—Harper's Bazar.

Against All Tradition.

"That millionaire is a very queer chap." "As to how?" "Never claims he was happier when he was poor. Always says he is happier now."

of the series of three entertainments given by the normal to raise funds with which to fight the Akin bill, and from the personnel of the class, one is justified in predicting that it will be an unqualified success.

The seniors at the normal hit the right time for their entertainment.
The series of entertainments was given to raise funds with which to fight the Akin bill, and as it happens the bill was killed on the very day set for the last entertainment. These entertainments served their purpose well and the success of the fight was largely due to the funds raised by this means.

Famous Manuscripts Sought After.
Manuscripts of famous books of the present time and of the future will probably be of little interest to bibli-ographers as compared with those of the past, for nearly all book manuscripts are now typewritten, and thus have no special individuality. But the genuine holograph "copy" of the old literary masters is treasured and brings good prices; for example, Sir Walter Scott's "Life of Jonathan Swift," in the original manuscript, with annotations, brought $1,910 at Primrose Day.

Primrose day (in England), the anniversary of the death of Benjamin Disraeli, Lord Beaconsfield, had its origin in the tribute, a modest wreath of primroses, sent by Queen Victoria for the funeral of Beaconsfield. The general impression that the primrose was Beaconsfield's "favorite" flower came from a misunderstanding of the words attached to the queen's tribute:
"F. Victoria. His favorite flower." The public thought the queen meant that the primrose was Beaconsfield's favorite flower, when in truth she meant that it was the favorite flower of the prince consort.

S.S.S. Cures Skin Diseases

Nature has made ample provision in the sunshine and moisture of the air for the outward life and protection of the skin, but the more important work of nourishing the cuticle has been left to an inward source—the blood. It is from the circulation that the pores and glands receive their support, and the fibrous tissues are all preserved in a healthful state because of constant nourishment supplied by the blood.

So long as the blood is pure and rich the skin will be free from eruptions or disease, but when the circulation becomes infected with acids and humors its nourishing and healthful properties are greatly diminished, and this acid, humor-laden condition causes irritation and inflammation of the delicate tissues and fibres. Then the effect is shown in Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, or some other distressing, disfiguring skin disease.

Humors and impurities get into the blood through a deranged or inactive condition of the system. Those members whose duty it is to collect and expel the refuse matter of the system fail to properly do their work, and this surplus or waste matter is left in the system to sour and be absorbed into the blood.

The cause of all skin diseases can be traced to some humor or acid in the blood. Smooth, healthy skins are only possible where the circulation is pure; and therefore the cure of any skin affection can only come from a thorough cleansing of this vital fluid. Salves, washes, lotions, etc., are available only for their ability to keep the skin clean, allay superficial irritation, or soften the hardened cuticle. Such treatment cannot cure because it does not reach the blood where the cause is located, and to depend upon such measures alone usually results in the aggravation and spreading of any skin trouble.

S. S. S. cures Skin Diseases of every kind by neutralizing the acids and removing all humors or

THE GEORGIA STATE SAVINGS ASSOCIATION

OF SAVANNAH GEORGIA

This Association is a Bank and Trust Company

You Get It for 2 to 10 Years

ONE of the greatest disadvantages of the ordinary straight loan is that the time is much too short. This, coupled with the fact that you are not allowed to apply your savings directly to the debt, makes this a most discouraging loan.

You will probably pay your interest industriously enough, but when the end of the time comes around you will be as much in debt as when you started. You will have to renew your loan and pay another commission.

If your loan falls due during a money shortage, you will run a chance of serious embarrassment, or even a foreclosure suit.

Under the installment loan plan, where your loan runs from two to ten years, you reduce your liability slowly and surely month by month, and at the end of the time you stand absolutely free and clear of debt and just so much ahead.

This plan is the best way to buy a home, to build a house, to improve property, to enlarge your business, to make new investments, to pay off old debts. Its application is universal.

WOMAN--HER RELATION TO THE GOVERNMENT

Since the day Mother Eve plucked and ate the apple and persuaded Adam to eat thereof, women have had an influence in the affairs of the world. Her action caused a change in the destiny of man.

Often other women, either directly or indirectly, in the history of nations have caused other changes. Women, like Catherine of Russia, have ruled a people with brain power and mental grasp equal to any man's in any time. Like Elizabeth and Victoria of England, there have been queens sensible enough to listen to the counsel of wise men, so their empires grew wider and better. There have been other women of wisdom or shrewdness who were the "power behind the throne," and exerted much influence in affairs of government—sometimes good, sometimes bad.

Yet other women have been able, like Florence Nightingale, Frances E. Willard, and Clara Barton to exert a world-wide influence for good and to change the policy of government through their great love for mankind.

But the average woman, up to 100 years ago, up to 50 years ago, had no more direct influence in the government of nations, than the children and slaves.

She was protected by laws in about the same degree. Some old laws were very unjust to women and a very few of those old laws are yet in force in some of the older states and countries, but the newer states and countries protect woman in her rights, and in several, as you know, suffrage has been granted her.

Suffrage for woman, to my mind, is a doubtful good. The vote of any person ignorant of the needs of the country, state, county or town, is a menace to good government, and unless women study the conditions and issues represented by the candidates for whom they vote, they are liable to weaken rather than strengthen the government.

I am more and more persuaded that men properly brought up, trained and educated, can do the voting and run the government better without the women's votes. You may think that if a woman has no vote she has no influence in the affairs of the country. This is a very much mistaken idea.

Women have, always had and always will have a great deal to do with shaping the policy of nations; the stability of nations; the rise and fall of nations depend as much upon woman, perhaps more, than a man. I will try to prove this. The family is the unit of society. Whatever strengthens home ties and builds up the family life strengthens the government.

A man and woman marrying form a partnership and establish a home. The man as a provider has his business, profession or calling. The woman must make the home, care for the family and wisely spend the money her husband earns.

The women who are able to make a pleasant refuge for husband and children, to set wholesome food before them, to keep the spending within incomes, and who succeed in rearing good and worthy citizens are doing more, far more, to insure the stability of our government than the half-fanatical suffragettes with their speeches, parades and other public demonstrations.

The women who frivolously and thoughtlessly waste what husbands provide, neglect to train their children, allow their girls to grow up fast, unprincipled and extravagant, their boys wild and lawless—these women are a menace to good government.

I have come to think that domestic science, household economics, preparation for home making and child training, at the present time, are of more importance than any branches taught in our schools.

They have been neglected for about fifty years, and the present generation of housekeepers, wives and mothers have shirked in so many instances that conditions are such that it is well indeed our state laws compel the teaching of the above subjects. Teaching ought to alternate with sermons on salvation of the human race by better housekeeping and better motherhood.

There are trite sayings that "The hand that rocks the cradle moves the world." All great men have had good mothers. Motherhood has been exalted and idealized in poetry, art and music until many women think that being a mother gives them all the importance and distinction of ideal motherhood, when in reality, to be a thoughtless and inefficient mother is a very dreadful thing. As good motherhood insures a good nation, a strong nation, so on the other hand, nation whose mothers fail in their duties of properly nurturing and training their children and instilling good principles in their minds and hearts, that nation will eventually weaken and go down.

You have studied history and I need not tell you how the foolish ideas and neglect of the ancient Grecian women in regard to their children was partly the cause of the fall of their glorious nation.

I need not tell you how the French women, by their folly and extravagance, brought about the French revolution.

I need not tell you how the bitterness and hatred of the peasant women of Europe, on account of the grinding tyranny of the ruling classes, breeds socialists and anarchists, causes horrible murders, riots, and may cause bloody rebellions and revolutions. I need not tell you of these things.

I want to call your attention to some of the thoughtless, yet very harmful, acts of the present generation of American women. They encourage their husbands to spend extravagantly and to go in debt to provide homes, furnishings and other things beyond their means. They rush their four and five-year-old children off to kindergartens instead of keeping them closely at home, guarded and trained by mother love until 8 or 10.

They lose the confidence of their daughters, and mothers and daughters are as strangers. How few are the mothers and daughters who are friends and chums. These mothers either "boss" too much, scold too much or neglect too much the sons God has given into their care, and America today averages about one boy in twenty who will make either a bad or inefficient citizen.

I base this estimate on the fact that I learn there are from three to five delinquent boys in all the grades above the third in many towns where I have made inquiry.

Ada is ten years old and has had classes in the grades averaging 35 pupils and more. During these ten years ten boys have graduated from the high school. What has become of their classmates?

Many are good working men or clerks; many are very inefficient citizens. Every one of the ten who have graduated hold good positions and are a credit to the town.

Will you look into the cause of so much inefficiency? I have studied the matter closely and conclude it is owing partly to crowded schools and untrained teachers, but more to lax government in the homes and because parents seem to demand it, lax government in the schools.

Mothers fail to exact obedience

How to Make Delicious Wholesome Griddle Cakes

The best flour, salt, milk and most expert care, will not make really palatable Griddle Cakes if the Baking Powder is inferior. Because Calumet Baking Powder makes such tempting, wholesome, appetizing Griddle Cakes, it has become as popular for this purpose as it is for making other good things to eat.

Calumet is the highest quality Baking Powder at a moderate price. It received the highest award at World's Pure Food Exposition—passes the Pure Food Laws. Hence you are sure that food made with Calumet is pure, wholesome and health-giving.

Millions of housewives are pinning their faith to Calumet. You try it next time you bake—learn for yourself the new satisfaction.

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

Plain Griddle Cake Recipe

One quart flour (4 cups); one teaspoon salt; 4 full cups milk and two teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder. Sift flour, Calumet Baking Powder and salt well together. Add milk, making soft batter. Bake immediately on hot griddle, well greased. When full of bubbles, turn and cook other side. Add two or three tablespoons melted butter, if richer and shorter cakes are desired. With the use of Calumet Baking Powder no eggs are required.

and protest vigorously when their children are corrected at school.

Will raising lawless, untrained, uneducated boys strengthen or weaken our government?

But you say the father is responsible, too. Yes, but we find in the case of delinquent boys it is usually the mother who interferes with the administering of proper discipline, and, as I remarked, the father is the bread-winner and business man and has all he can do, usually. So the management of the home and children falls on the mother, and woe unto the nation whose mothers fail in performing the duties they assume when they become partners in the business of home-making.

The magazines and papers abound with criticism and comment on modern woman—read some of them, notice the women about you and decide for yourselves whether or not the criticisms are just.

Wise students of sociology attribute the present "high cost of living" and semi-hard times to the extravagance and wastefulness of housekeepers.

Hard times cause restlessness and breeds socialism. Sociologists trace strikes, riots and discontent of the masses to the extravagant and spendthrift habits of the so-called "upper classes." Some say to the "trusts." Well, women raised the men who formed the trusts, and if they instilled into those men the good, Christian doctrines and principles the mothers of the ante-bellum days instilled into their sons, these trust men and wily politicians would not rob the working men and cheat and rob consumers as they now do. They are a bad lot and a menace to our government. They certainly ought to have had a better bringing up, and if their mothers are to blame, they ought to be ashamed of their notorious sons, and I guess they are, for I have never heard a word about the trust men having good mothers.

In reading over this article I realize that I have given womankind of the kind we seem to have in the majority, such a scolding that I feel that I ought to try to say something nice about us in conclusion, but we are, as a whole, so thoughtless, frivolous, so full of fads and so prone to do the "proper thing" rather than the right thing, that I find it hard to say anything nice about us, especially in relation to the government.

However, women of late years have done much good work in civics, cleaned up towns, beautified parks, school grounds and streets, placed fountains, one of which this town enjoys—or at least the horses do—and have done a great deal of good in tenement and settlement work and other benevolent schemes, all of which benefits and uplifts society generally and tends to strengthen our government. The present fad of forming Patrons clubs and studying the needs and conditions of our schools is a good indication. If the good women work out these knotty school problems, making our schools equal to the task of properly training and educating all our boys and girls for some good and useful citizen ship, they will do more toward strengthening our government and insuring its stability than they could possibly do by going into politics.

The latest fad, that of going to cooking school is most commendable. We would all be benefited by a thorough course in cooking according to modern scientific methods. We would, by improving ourselves in cooking, contribute more to the happiness of our families than by studying politics or taking china painting. A woman never understands politics, and china painting is an expensive luxury—results doubtful.

Even Shakespeare may be laid away on the shelf that the club woman may have time to study her cook book and grocery list in these hard times.

Altogether indications are that we women have reached the limit of our unwise ways and are turning to study the situation and do our best to improve ourselves and our country.

I hope you girls will study the sociology side of history, study the social, moral, as well as the political, conditions of our country. Do not neglect those branches that will help you in housekeeping, home-making and the training of children.

If you would help to build up our nation and strengthen our government you will endeavor first to become efficient teachers in our schools and later efficient partners in the art of home-making.
